INSURGENTS BEATEN BACK FROM MADRID WITH HEAVY LOSSES

Attack on Outskirts Brings Heaviest Fighting in Months—Government Forces Close Gap Between Cordoba and Badajoz Provinces—Insurgent Positions Bombed From Air

MADRID, April 8 (P).—Heaviest fighting in months broke out on the outskirts of Madrid tonight. Government headquarters declared the insurgents were beaten back with heavy losses as they attacked along the whole front from the Carabanchel region, just south of Madrid, to University City, the war-scarred district of Northwestern Madrid.

The fighting, which began at 8:30 p.m. and had started to die down at 10 p.m., came just after the Government achieved a success in Southern Spain with the union of two main columns some seventy miles north of the highly-important insurgent-held city of Seville.

Government reports also told of heavy air bombings of insurgent positions at Valladolid, far northwest of Madrid; at Toledo, south of Madrid, and at Malaga, southern seaport.

The union of Government forces north of Seville was accomplished by troops driving west from the Cordoba Province mining region to make contact with troops in neighboring Badajoz Province and close a gap which had existed for months.

The Madrid army, tonight's dispatches said, was within sight of Penarroya, one of the main objectives in the preliminary advance toward Cordoba.

CHECKED BY LONG DEBATE

Proposal to Increase Tariff On U.S. Furniture Helps Prolong Session

OTTAWA, April 8 (P).—The House today marched toward week-end prorogation but was checked, after pushing nine bills through third readings, by a vigorous and potentially long debate on proposals to increase the tariff on United States furniture.

Western Liberals rose against a budget resolution seeking to increase the tariff on American furniture from 27 1/2 to 33 per cent on recommendation of the tariff board, which conducted a considerable investigation into the industry.

It was considered almost a certainty that the debate would last long enough to carry the session over till next week.

THREE BANDITS SEIZE PAYROLL

Ontario Thugs Blamed for $1,400 Robbery of Winnipeg Factory

WINNIPEG, April 8 (P).—Three armed bandits, believed by police to be "big-time thugs" from Ontario, abducted a taxi-driver and two employees of Paulin Chambers Bliscuit Company here, today, and escaped with the company's $1,400 payroll.

H. G. Storen, cashier, and J. L. Turner, payroll clerk, were returning to the office from the bank with the weekly payroll when they were accosted by three gunmen, who ordered them into a taxicab in which they were riding.

The bandits drove the men a considerable distance through the city, and then threw them out of the car after taking the payroll. Later, police said, they abandoned the cab and sped off in another car with Ontario license plates.

TWO DESTROYERS GOING TO REVIEW

Skeena and Saguenay to Take Part in Great Naval Display at Spithead

Two Canadian destroyers, Saguenay and Skeena, will take part in the Coronation naval review at Spithead on May 20, according to an Admiralty statement in The Times, London. New Zealand will send the cruiser Leander, and India the sloop Indus. No announcement has been made by the Department of National Defence regarding Canada's naval participation in Coronation celebrations.

H.M.C.S. Saguenay and Skeena arrived at Halifax yesterday, accompanied by the new destroyer St. Laurent, after taking part in naval exercises in the West Indies. Canada's other new destroyer, Fraser, is on her way to her new station at Esquimaux.

Detroit Red Wings Capture Second of Stanley Cup Games

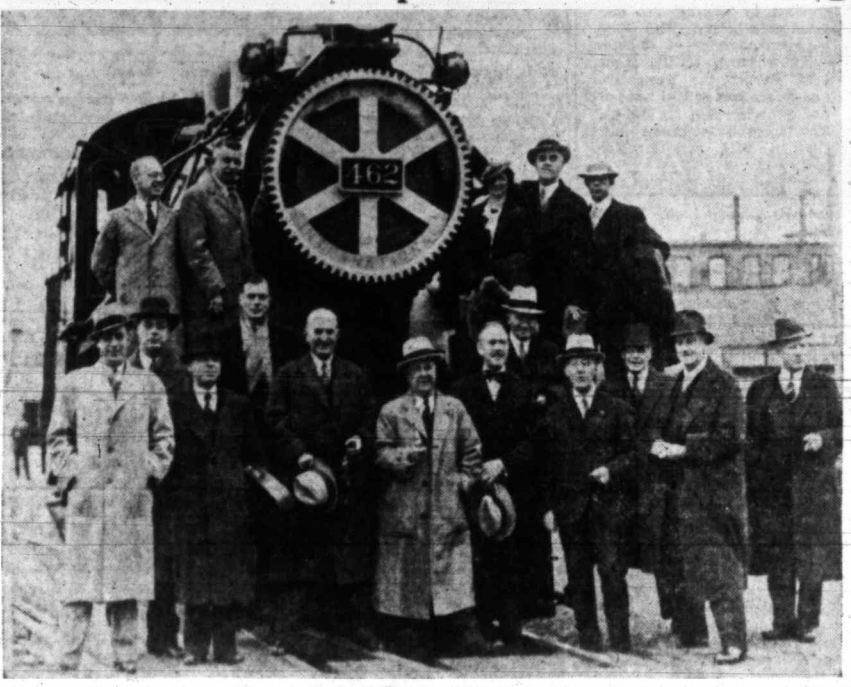

Jack Adams' Squad Evens Up Series by Administering 4-2 Setback to New York Rangers—Robertson Plays Goal for Winners

DETROIT, April 8 (P).—The champion Detroit Red Wings skated back into the Stanley Cup picture tonight, whipping New York's amazing Rangers, 4-2, to even the five-game series at one victory apiece before 13,491 paid customers.

Again the speedy, smooth team that won the National Hockey League championship from Les Canadiens of Montreal, the Red Wings fired three goals in four and one-half minutes past Dave Kerr, sensational New York netminder, in the first period. Kerr had been scored on but twice in 313 minutes of play-off hockey before tonight's game.

The defeat ended the Rangers' inspired winning streak that had

Rotarians Make Trip to Nanaimo Meeting

FRANCE REPEATS INSISTENCE VOLUNTEERS BE WITHDRAWN

Italo-French Football Game Cancelled for Fear of Demonstrations

PARIS, April 8 (P).—Premier Blum reminded Italy tonight that France asks "insistently" the withdrawal of foreign volunteers in Spain and maintained that his Government's attitude of neutrality "gives the lie" to Italian charges of French intervention in the civil war.

As the breach between the nations apparently extended to sports, with cancellation of an Italo-French football game here, the Premier's office issued the statement that "it is only too easy to guess what the reasons are for these accusations and what their goal is. Their untrue character readily appears."

HAD NO PART

The Foreign Office announced it had no part in cancellation of the Italo-French football game to have been held here on Sunday, but an apparent Italian fear of anti-Fascist demonstrations was advanced as a reason.

The game was canceled, French sources said, after Achille Starace, secretary of the Fascist party, declined to permit issuance of passports to the Italian players.

A SPEEDY APOLOGY

LONDON, April 8 (P).—Two British warships collected a speedy apology today from Spanish insurgents for two air attacks against the destroyer Gallant.

Insurgent air commanders and port authorities at Palma, Mallorca, one of the Balearic Islands, told officers of the British vessels "it was conceivable we made an unfortunate mistake."

Insurgent authorities explained that prior to the attack against the Gallant on Tuesday they had received reports Spanish Government destroyers were in the waters through which the Gallant was passing, off the east coast of Spain.

Promises Ample Notice if Decision Made to Drop Leadership

OTTAWA, April 8 (P).—Conservative members of Parliament were informed in caucus today by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett that he would give them ample notice should he decide to relinquish the leadership of the party. This was the last caucus before prorogation.

The Conservative leader's statement is presumed to have been prompted by reports through the country that he was giving consideration to retiring. It is understood he told the members it would not do in the interests of the party to have uncertainty as to leadership continue indefinitely. He expected to return from a trip to European countries following the Coronation at a reasonably early date and would then be ready to make known his decision.

Ontario to Fight Domination of U.S. Labor Profiteers

Premier Hepburn Lines Up With General Motors After Employees Go on Strike for Recognition Of Union—Oshawa Mayor Will Allow No Interference From Outside Police

TORONTO, April 8 (P).—Premier Mitchell Hepburn lined his Ontario Government beside General Motors of Canada today to fight the "domination of professional labor profiteers" from the United States who, he said, organized the Oshawa strike of automobile workers today.

A "showdown" was imminent, declared the Premier, asserting "the entire resources of this province will be utilized, if necessary, to prevent anything in this country resembling that which is taking place at the present time across the line, due to failure on the part of constituted authority to take adequate action."

While the Premier merely said "sufficient police to maintain law and order" would be available, it was learned 200 Royal Canadian Mounted Police had been placed at the disposal of the Ontario Government. It was believed the Mounties would be stationed in Toronto, thirty-five miles from the strike scene.

In addition about sixty-five officers of the Ontario Provincial Police were mobilized in Toronto.

Gordon Scott, Crown prosecutor, applied for the bench warrant.

SENATE AMENDS RAILWAYS BILL

Measure Provides for Footnote on C.N.R. Balance Sheet to Show Equity Through Indebtedness

OTTAWA, April 8 (P).—By a vote of 37-25, the Senate today amended the measure for a new financial set-up of the Canadian National Railways.

In changing the bill to provide for a footnote on the C.N.R. balance sheet, a sub-amendment by Senator C. P. Beaupre (Cons., Montreal) was adopted stipulating the footnote shall appear stating that the proprietors' equity representing an aggregate indebtedness of $1,334,567,414 is disclosed in the net debt of Canada and in the historical record of Government assistance to railways as shown in the public accounts of Canada.

ROYAL FAMILY NOW AT WINDSOR CASTLE

LONDON, April 8 (P).—The King and Queen, with the Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose, drove from the royal lodge at Windsor today to Windsor Castle, where they will remain until early in May. The Royal Family is expected to return to London a few days before the Coronation on May 12.

SHIPOWNERS SEND BILL

OSLO, Norway, April 8 (P).—Norwegian shipowners today sent a claim for $250,000 to the Spanish insurgent government for ships seized during the civil war.

Hedley Report Is Critical of Share Trading

Amazing Story of Stock Operations Revealed by Interim Report of Commissioner Investigating Collapse in Trading of Issue on Exchange—Official Views Operations as Normal

Fraser Points Out Abuses by Which Public Is Endangered

AN extraordinary story of the promotion and sale of Hedley Amalgamated stock by the assistance of "visionary" and "false" reports from the mine, the creation of "an appearance of market activity" through trading in brokers' house accounts, and of interlocking directorates, some members of whom sold optioned and escrow shares on the exchange, was told yesterday in the interim report of G. L. Fraser, British Columbia commissioner under the Securities Act, in his first report to the Government.

Premier Pattullo released the report, and followed it immediately with a statement from H. G. Garrett, British Columbia superintendent of brokers, declaring, in part, that no offence had been committed, and that the Hedley transactions were normal to the development of new mines in this province.

DEATH END OF DRIVING LESSON

Car Crashes Through Railing When Accelerator Mistaken for Brake

VANCOUVER, April 8 (P).—Hospital attaches said tonight they expected Percy H. Edge, Vancouver automobile salesman, would recover from injuries received today when the demonstrator car in which he was teaching Mrs. A. Haselton to drive, plunged over a 200-foot embankment, killing the woman.

Although suffering a fractured shoulder, fractured ribs, internal injuries and shock, Edge was reported improved at hospital.

According to police reports Mrs. Haselton, apparently attempting to turn the car round on a disused portion of Marine Drive near the University of British Columbia campus and had stepped on the accelerator instead of the brake when the car approached the guardrail at the edge of the cliff. It crashed through the railing and hurtled over the cliff, landing on a rocky beach.

Rescuers had to be lowered over the cliff.

Portions of the car, torn loose as it rolled end over end, were strewn all down the bank.

NO BLAME FOR YOUTH'S DEATH

Jury Finds Constable Shot In Self-Defence at Presumed Burglar

VANCOUVER, April 8 (P).—A coroner's jury today exonerated Constable Lyle Roblin, of the city police, for the death of Frederick Himmelman. The nineteen-year-old youth was fatally wounded after a scuffle with Roblin, as he and Constable Robert Cooper investigated a burglar alarm in a downtown chain store.

There is no blame attached to Constable Roblin, as we believe that he fired in self-defence while in performance of his duty," the verdict read.

SEVENTEEN ESCAPE FROM FLORIDA JAIL

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 8 (P).—Chief Deputy Sheriff R. L. Bohon reported seventeen Negroes, including the two confessed slayers of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Surrency, escaped from the county jail early today by sawing the bars of a window.

Only a fraction of the water needed to relieve the distress of the famine area had fallen but the parched countryside was beginning to revive and the Yangtze River was rising.

Denounces Waste by Government on B.C. Road Construction

Conservative Leader Criticizes "Election Loan"—Proper Use of Money Spent on Roads Would Have Built 3,750 Miles of Highways

PENTICTON, April 8.—Demanding economy in government, and an immediate stop to borrowing on capital account, Dr. F. P. Patterson, Conservative leader, vigorously attacked the Liberal Government in an address following the nomination convention for Similkameen riding. H. H. Boyle, barrister of Penticton, was named as candidate for the riding.

The Conservative leader was particularly critical of the "election loan" of $3,000,000, which he declared was floated for the purpose of trying to buy the elections of British Columbia with money raised on their credit. At the last session of the Legislature, he pointed out, Premier Pattullo had asked for and was granted a "blanket order" permitting him to borrow up to $5,000,000 without specifying the purposes for which the money was to be borrowed.

PEOPLE'S MONEY
"Although this money belongs to the people of British Columbia," he declared, "they have no say in the manner of spending it. This is a sample of the autocratic manner so frequently adopted by Premier Pattullo since he assumed the reins of government. It is the very negation of democracy."

Catholic Laity of City Welcome New
Bishop of Victoria

Gathering Which Fills Empress Hotel Ballroom
Applauds Most Rev. John C. Cody at First
Public Reception Since Installation Here

MOST Rev. John C. Cody, new Bishop of the Diocese of Victoria, was the guest of honor last evening, at the Empress Hotel, of a reception organized by the Knights of Columbus for the Catholic laity of the community and the public generally, in order that they might tender their respects to the young prelate and welcome other members of the Catholic hierarchy visiting the city at present in connection with the installation celebrations.

The ballroom was crowded. Frank P. Mellan, grand knight of the Victoria Council of the Knights of Columbus, presided, and with him on the platform were, in addition to Bishop Cody, Archbishop W. M. Duke, Vancouver; Most Rev. E. M. Buno, Vicar Apostolic of Prince Rupert and the Yukon; Rt. Rev. Monsignor Victor Day, Helena, Montana; Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, representing the Provincial Government; Ald. James Adam, representing Mayor Andrew McGavin and the City; Rev. J. E. Brennan, who accompanied Bishop Cody here from Ottawa; Rev. C. J. McNell, Vancouver; Rev. A. Gaudette and Rev. Carl Albury, Victoria, and David Cody, father of Bishop Cody. Bishop Gerald Murray, who was to have been present, was unable to attend owing to temporary indisposition.

BISHOP'S ADDRESS
Responding to the cordial and flattering greetings extended by the several speakers who preceded him, Bishop Cody, who wore his Roman mantle with red collets and was paid the tribute of prolonged applause as the big audience rose spontaneously to its feet, delivered what amounted to a manifesto, impressing on his people his belief that only by daily testimony and practice of Christian love toward one's fellow men would the world be won for Christ.

His ambition was, he said, to do all the good he could. Charity should be universal. The Christian should love everyone; this supreme lesson had been given by Jesus when He had asked of His Heavenly Father forgiveness for those who nailed Him to the Cross. Love beget love. This doctrine of love the Bishop would extend to all mankind.

EVEN COMMUNISTS
In answer to the question: "Should Christians hate Communists?" Bishop Cody maintained that the true Christian could not hate any of his fellow men. The Christian who realized the social and economic conditions that bred Communism, who realized that most Communists had been driven into that position, would know that more effective than insults would be love. With the exercise of love the injustices and the bitter effects of injustice would both be removed. "Although we may hate Communism, we must not hate the Communist," Bishop Cody maintained. "For although our Lord hated sin He always loved the sinner. This is my manifesto as Bishop, to do all the good I can to every citizen of Victoria and

Clean-Up Campaign

WITH twenty-four more hours of the Clean-Up Campaign to go, Victoria agencies joined yesterday in thanking the public for co-operation in a worthwhile movement to make the best of Victoria's attractions for residents and tourists alike in this Coronation year.

Sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the drive has had some concrete results, and time yet remains for those who so far have not taken advantage of the chance to clean up their homes and gardens by clearing out disposable rubbish. The Employment Service of Canada supplied much of the labor used during the campaign, and is anxious still to hear of any jobs for men or women. The bureau's telephones are Garden 2411 and Empire 1931.

Vancouver Island, high, low and broad.

The young prelate spoke with affection of his people in Ottawa, who he has had some touching testimony of their esteem at the time of his departure. He had also been much touched by the warmth of his reception in Victoria. He felt deeply honored in being called for so great a task, but even so all down the ages had God singled out the least expected, the most simple ones, to use as his instruments. He had faith that God would not desert him.

CORDIAL GREETINGS

As chairman, Mr. Mellan commented on the fact that Bishop Cody, whom they were met to welcome and honor, was the twelfth bishop of the Diocese of Victoria, which is now entering its ninety-first year. Humorously he referred to the numerous changes of bishops in recent years. They seemed to remain just long enough to discover the many advantages of living here before they were translated elsewhere.

Frank Doherty read the message of welcome from the Catholic laity to the new bishop. They were not insensible of the wider powers which the Holy Father had seen fit to confer upon so many bishops, but hoped in welcoming Bishop Cody to their homes and hearts that his sojourn would be of long and happy duration.

Alderman James Adam, on behalf of the city, and Hon. K. C. MacDonald, on behalf of the Province, also extended greetings, and Archbishop Duke delivered a fine spiritual message following a friendly and humorous talk by Bishop Buno. After the formal proceedings members of the audience were presented to the bishop, kissing his ring and receiving his blessing.

The musical part of the programme was given by Mrs. S. J. Shanks, who, accompanied by Miss Marguerite MacKay, sang "May," and Miss Wanda Spencer, pianist, who played "Prelude and Toccata."

PLEASED WITH MINE OUTLOOK

L. R. Clubine, Nelson, was a visitor to the city yesterday on business connected with the mining interests with which he is identified in the interior of the province. When seen here the visitor gave some facts with regard to the Clubine Comstock Gold Mines, Ltd., located about twenty-three miles from Nelson and which has been operating steadily for about five years.

He said that in the past twelve months there has been carried out at the property under his charge 1,261 feet of development work. He has out of the earnings of the property paid several thousand dollars for improvements and other maintenance. He has also been able to pay off liabilities, reducing these to less than $1,500. Mr. Clubine stated that he has now over $5,000 worth of ore ready to ship to the smelter.

LATEST DEVELOPMENTS
Speaking of some of the latest developments at the property, the visitor gave the information that during the past year in the No. 4 level there had been carried out development to the extent of 400 feet in length. From this level, twenty cars of ore were shipped to the Trail Smelter, which averaged slightly over one ounce in gold to the ton. Late last fall also a new level was started 145 feet on the dip of the vein below this level. It has been continued 200 feet up to date and showed .85 to .252 ounces in gold. The car shipped from this level gave 1.39 in gold. Mr. Clubine has returned to his mining operations.

DIFFICULT TO ENFORCE
Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the House it would be difficult to enforce any provision to prevent fishermen from countries other than Canada and the United States invading the halibut fishing areas off the Pacific Coast.

He expressed the view as the House approved the new halibut convention between Canada and the United States. British Columbia members had pressed for steps to bring the United Kingdom and Japan within the scope of the agreement.

Appeal Issued by Celebration Committee for Odd Cents on Accounts

In order to finance the celebration of Victoria's seventy-fifth anniversary of incorporation between May and August, the celebration committee, headed by Alderman T. W. Hawkins, has issued an appeal to those with bank accounts to contribute the odd cents shown in their pass books. Arrangements have been made with the managers of local banks to receive such contributions and turn them over to the committee at the City Hall. Special cards bearing the appeal will be placed in every city bank. Blue, gold and red stickers advertising the city's anniversary, have been distributed to local hotels and a number of businesses, to be placed on baggage and mail leaving Vancouver Island. Stickers are in two sizes, and bear the famous Victoria city seal, said to be one of the most artistic on the continent.

INVITE OFFICIALS
Artistically engraved invitations are being printed for distribution to mayors and Reeves of British Columbia cities and towns, Governors and Lieutenant-Governors of the six Western States, inviting them to the city in May, June, July and August. Invitations bear an engraving of Queen Victoria and the city's crest on one side with tiny drawings of the first school, R. P. Butchart's sunken gardens,

Ethel and Otto Luening, Soprano and Flautist, Appear in Recital is pure in color and pitch, full of the quality of warmth and full-rounded beauty which are the mark of a truly great instrument and she possesses great personal magnetism.

MODERN MUSIC

In a group of works by contemporary American composers, written especially for the Luening's, the audience was given an interesting glimpse into the realm of modern music. The first "Music for Voice and Flute" (Wallingford Riegger) was entirely without words, showing the voice as an instrument, the music based upon strong rhythmic devices rather than conventional harmonic schemes. Mr. Luening, in his introductory remarks, likened this number to a black and white drawing. The second, "The Lark" (Henry Leland Clarke) was a perfect medium for the bell-like quality of the soprano, and was accompanied, "Nonsense Syllables" was an interesting experiment by Robert McBride, and American composer, in which the quality of humor is apparent, and "Rory More's Cascade" (Evelyn Berckman) was onomatopoeic in style, the flute and voice blending in perfect tone.

OPERATIC NUMBERS

Mrs. Luening was equally happy in her group of Hebridean songs as in her expression of feeling for and interpretation of operatic numbers, singing the aria "Ach Ich Schwandte Seliger Tage" from Mozart's opera "Apollo and Hyacinthus," a brilliant opening number on the programme, and again in the final spinning and jewel songs from "Faust." In the latter, Mrs. Luening, as Marguerite, was in costume. One of the most brilliant numbers in her repertoire was the well-loved "Primavera" (Strauss), which the audience applauded enthusiastically.

OTTO LUENING

A smooth clear tone, rich shading and remarkable breath control characterized Otto Luening's performance. Victoria audiences have seldom heard this instrument handled in such a masterly manner and his "Sonata in F Major" (Handel) displayed the virtuosity of the artist. Of special interest were his explanation and examples of Acadian folk music, some of which he has incorporated in his opera "Evangeline" from which he played excerpts.

As accompanists both artists showed themselves to be exceptionally gifted. In appreciation of her art, Ethel Luening received an exquisite bouquet of flowers.

Comedy and Dramas Are Adjudicated at Night Performance

Appreciative Audience Applauds Players and Hears Valuable Criticisms Submitted by Keinert Wolff—Importance of Inner Action Stressed

FOUR interesting plays that received a warm reception from an appreciative audience, and pungent, yet kindly criticism, from Keinert Wolff, adjudicator, featured last evening's presentation at the sixth annual British Columbia Drama Festival at the Shrine Auditorium.

THE CURTAIN CLUB

The Curtain Club, of Victoria, offered a drama of a Borneo rubber plantation, "The Rattle," directed by Stewart G. Clark, its author. Composing the cast were Arthur Kerr, Richard Gatehouse, Betty Hetherington and Bill Findlay. "The play was trite, the characterization wooden and the dialogue full of clichés," said the adjudicator. "Despite this fact, Mrs. Hetherington and the other actors did well and were given good direction." Eight points were awarded for scenery.

RUSSIAN BALLET SCHOOL

The evening's second play, "The Purple Cow," a comedy, was presented by the Russian Ballet School. Written by Reby Edmond, it was directed by Vivien Combe. Those taking part were Daisy Borrowman, Dan McDonald, Vaughan Barker, Dick Stursberg and Doreen Wilson. Mr. Wolff commented upon the exceptional casting, but maintained the whole play should have been offered as a vaudeville sketch, with faster pacing. The offering ended on a note of anti-climax, he said. The suggestion was also made that orthophonic music should be supported by some instrument, such as the violin or piano, to give an effect of naturalness. Nine points were awarded for scenery.

THE PRIORY PLAYERS

"Sa Mate" (Death), a tragedy, laid in Polynesia, was presented by the Priory Players. It was written by Ellen O'Brien and directed by Charles Barker. George Durham, Celia Lewis, Frank Taylor, George Gunn, H. F. Hewlett and Dan Plater comprised the cast.

"Here the characters are more alive, more human," commented the adjudicator. "For all that, however, the play is reminiscent of movies of the South Seas." He spoke of the great contrast between the darkness of the interior of the decadent hotel and the bright moonlight without, and suggested more attention be paid to lighting. Over-acting by some members of the cast was also mentioned by Mr. Wolff. Scenery was given eight points.

QUANTOCK-RICH PLAYERS

A drama, held over from Monday evening, completed the programme. This was "The Hundredth Trick," by the Quantock-Rich Players, written by Beulah Mary Dix and directed by Miss M. Biddgood. Those in the cast were Carson A. Pecknold, Adrian Pecknold, William W. Inglis and Dennis Harris.

Commenting on this "marital interlude," laid in the latter days of Queen Elizabeth, Mr. Wolff praised the costumes and the talent shown by the players. "With sure direction and more study, they could, I am sure, give a better performance," he said.

The fact that the actors' voices did not carry to the back of the hall drew criticism, while those taking part were told that "inner action is sometimes more important than anything found in the lines." Scenery was awarded ten points.

Incidental music was provided by the Kendall Radio Laboratories.

BUSINESSMEN TO VISIT NEW HALL

A group of representative city businessmen have been invited to Sooko this afternoon to inspect the Sooko Community Association's new recreation hall prior to the grand opening dance.

Following the inspection, directors and their wives will serve the visitor afternoon tea, and as many as possible have been invited to participate in the evening's festivities. It was felt by directors that the generous support given by the Victoria citizens should receive appreciation. It was very much desired to have these friends inspect the hall before the opening.

Among those who have been invited are representatives of the Provincial Government, mayor and aldermen of Victoria, executives of the Chamber of Commerce, executive of the Victoria Real Estate Board—and the executive of the Gyro Club. C. F. Todd, C. F. Goodrich and a group of business representatives, who have generously supported the Sooko Community Association since its inception three years ago, have also been invited.

Vancouver Island Coach Lines buses will leave the depot at 8 o'clock for the convenience of those who wish to attend the dance.

DENOUNCES WASTE BY GOVERNMENT OF B.C.

of all British ideals of democracy." In the past twenty-five years, he declared, the public debt had increased at the rate of $6,000,000 annually, or $50,000 for each working day.

He condemned the wasteful and extravagant policy of haphazard highway construction, and emphatically declared in favor of a highway commission which would operate on a definite and progressive long-range programme of road development. Enough money had been spent on roads in the past quarter of a century to have provided "if waste had been eliminated—2,750 miles of the finest type of hard-surfaced highways."

T. J. GOODLAKE IS PRESIDENT

Chosen by Acclamation as Rotary Club Head—Directors Are Nominated

T. J. GOODLAKE

T. J. Goodlake is the unanimous choice of the Victoria Rotary Club for president. The nominating committee, under the chairmanship of P. R. Scurrah, reported upon the selection at yesterday's meeting, with no other name submitted.

For the eight directors to be selected for the year, the committee named the following candidates: A. Brown, G. Brown, P. B. Fowler, Colonel H. E. Goodman, G. Hamilton Harman, W. J. Fletcher, R. P. Malone, A. J. Maynard, N. H. Lamont, W. B. Lemm, J. A. Kennedy, F. J. Sehl, G. I. Warren, Rev. Dr. W. J. Sippell and Alex. Peden.

The selection of Mr. Goodlake as president was received with hearty applause. He ranks as one of the earliest members of the club in Victoria and has been a great worker in all the enterprises of the organization.

President Doherty briefly reviewed the visit to Nanaimo on Wednesday and the gathering of the Island clubs in that city. He paid special attention to what had been done by E. N. Kennedy, superintendent of the E. & N. Railway, in providing a special train service. He presented Mr. Kennedy with a Rotary pin. The recipient expressed his thanks and said that he was amply repaid by the wonderful cheerfulness of the party which he had conveyed to Nanaimo.

Shows Beautiful Lantern Slides

Slides depicting scenes made interesting by the coming Coronation and beautiful scenic views of Canterbury, Winchester, Windsor, the Isle of Wight, the Scottish Highlands, Edinburgh and parts of Ireland were shown to an appreciative audience in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium Wednesday evening by E. E. Richards.

He accompanied the pictures with a description of the Coronation ceremonies, stating that the actual crowning was not the highlight of the ceremonies, the consecration and anointing with oil being the most interesting and ceremonious part of the proceedings.

Rev. G. R. V. Bolster was chairman and Mrs. Sydney Sherratt and Arthur Jackson rendered vocal solos, accompanied by Miss Moore.

CITY ESTIMATES TO BE DISCUSSED

To sit as a special committee on estimates for the current year, the City Council will meet at 7:30 o'clock this evening. Mayor Andrew McGavin stated drastic cuts would be made in many items with a view to reducing the tax rate two mills. He anticipated there would definitely be a reduction of one mill, although aldermen had tentatively set the goal at two mills.

This year's draft budget prepared by the city controller and treasurer shows uncontrollable expenditures of $1,322,993.74 and controllable expenditures of $1,094,625.19, a total of $2,417,618.93. Estimated receipts are $751,838.49, aside from the money to be raised by taxes on land and improvements.

ARE "All Nerves"?

ALL women at some period of their lives need a strengthening tonic like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The young woman who suffers from monthly pains, or the middle-aged woman who experiences "hot flashes" should take this tonic. Miss Juanita Boudreau said: "A few years ago I became 'all nerves.' I couldn't stand the heat, noise or excitement, rested poorly at night, my appetite was gone, and I lost weight. I decided to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and my appetite improved, and I picked up so rapidly that in no time I was enjoying the best of health." Sold by druggists. New size, 50c. ## TRANS-CANADA AIR SERVICE

Mr. C. D. Howe, the Minister of Transport, announces that Montreal is to be the eastern terminus of the trans-Canada air service. It will be, both for the Atlantic flight and for the trans-Canadian service. On this coast Vancouver is to be the terminus. All consideration of the trans-Canada service omits mention of Vancouver Island. The flight from Vancouver to Montreal, it is estimated, will take sixteen hours and the ocean crossing from twenty-two to twenty-six hours. Thus Vancouver will be brought within two days of London, if the plans mature according to schedule.

The Trans-Canada Air Lines is to be established as a company with $5,000,000 capital in shares of $100 each. The Canadian National Railways will underwrite the stock and distribute it to such companies interested in aviation as desire to participate. The Air Lines will provide the main transcontinental service and whatever ancillary services are deemed necessary and will be given an exclusive contract to carry mails, passengers, and express freight from coast to coast. The Government, up to January 1, 1940, is to meet all deficits by a cash subsidy. After that date the carriage of mails will be on a contract basis, with a sliding scale of rates devised to obviate any annual deficit. A complete modern air service must be supplied. The Government is to provide the landing fields, beacon lights, radio beams and weather reports free of charge.

The cost of the equipment will be about $1,750,000 and the operating expenses $1,000,000 a year. A sum of $2,000,000 will be held in reserve for expansion. It is the Government's intention to have all the necessary landing fields completed by the end of this year, and presumably about the same time the trans-Canada service will go into operation. Canada's contribution to the trans-Atlantic air service is to be $1,250,000.

BOOKS

Every now and then a striking popular success achieved by a literary adventurer whose outstanding quality is a serene disregard for old-fashioned decency and propriety, falls forth a protest, mild or inadequate, contemptuous or ironical in the columns of some literary journal. A recent essayist says that such "successes" are frequently achieved by persons who desire to see human nature at its lowest take the central place in literature and who worship immaturity, savagery, crudeness, and noise, "nowadays mistaken for strength in art."

Thus take a university man of good social connections wishing to enter a career of authorship who dons a bright red tie and rough tweeds, and searches out low company, not because he likes it, but because he wishes to rid himself of any feeling of inferiority! He drinks at low places and consorts with low characters, and so qualifies himself to "write a long, long novel about life in the raw." He is not without his competitors, however, and formidable competitors they are. The university man obtained his experience of "life in the raw" only at second-hand. Some publishers, realizing this handicap, go to the prison gates with fat cheques in their hands to secure the literary services of forgers, thieves, and men and women of the underworld. They have found that some of these persons are able to write in such an understanding way, and, indeed, almost as if they enjoyed the life of crime and squalor.

Books of this stamp frequently find their way into circulating libraries. The librarians make the usual flimsy excuses. They speak of a mysterious "public demand" which cannot be ignored. Growing bolder, they intimate that, indeed, the public are quite right in wishing to "face the facts." True, they became a little hazy when they try to show that such "facts" are the most important facts that have to be faced. Of course the librarians and booksellers who find room on their shelves for rubbish of this kind are aiding and abetting the publishers in their efforts to create a demand, not to meet a real one.

Nevertheless, there is available, now as always, an adequate supply of books, new and old, written by unfashionable persons who insisted upon "climbing upwards instead of downwards," who write about things that really matter. These are the creative writers who "hold a torch by which one may see through life to its inner meaning; not a mirror showing only its externals."

RECORDING HEART BEATS

Dr. C. Vaughan Henriques describes in The Lancet a machine called the phonostethograph which enables human heart beats to be heard loudly and clearly, to be recorded and played back like an ordinary gramophone record. This apparatus is the culmination of attempts made by physiologists and clinicians to record heart sounds ever since 1856. When the machine is in use the patient reclines on a couch, and over the part where the heart beats or the lung sounds are best heard there is applied a "chest piece" held in position by an elastic belt. The doctor listening in with earphones adjusts the amplifier controls until he gets the volume of sound he desires. Then the loud-speaker is brought into operation and there is a faithful reproduction of the heart sounds without any of the scratch associated with records.

The new instrument, it is claimed, will enable the case of a patient to be followed more definitely than by the old way of taking notes. It will determine a heart that is sound and one that is not normal. Presumably, with general application of the phonostethograph, the stethoscope will go by the board. It is also hoped that it will be possible to transmit heart-beat sounds by wireless, so that a patient at sea who wishes to consult his own doctor can have him rung up by wireless telephone and asked to listen to heart-beats hundreds of miles away.

The London Times, commenting on the phonostethograph, says that if it is widely applied the heart will very quickly drop out of use as the seat of the affections. It cannot imagine Thackeray's Miss Buntin subjected to the test, and says that when medical examination before marriage becomes compulsory it may include a series of tests by the phonostethograph—"and indeed before exchanging hearts the parties would naturally wish to have particulars of what they were getting. The result might well be a set of gramophone records which, when the pair had reached mid-Channel, might be used to prove that the match was, on this side or on that, no love-match, but a social or commercial speculation. It is well that our younger poets are already tired of hearts and darts, for none of the gentle mysteries of love can be trusted any more to an organ which can be made to broadcast the truth over the world. The best that can be said for the device (outside its proper province) is that it might be useful in examinations. No motorist, for instance, should be licensed unless the phonostethograph had approved his reactions to the ideas of pedal-bicyclists, dogs, and the Minister of Transport. And suitable tests for every profession and calling should not be hard to devise."

JUBILEE HOSPITAL TAG DAY

A considerable increase in the number of patients makes an added claim upon the generosity of the public at tomorrow's tag day of the Women's Auxiliary of the Royal Jubilee Hospital. The members of this organization in their benevolent service on behalf of the sick are confronted with extra heavy demands upon their treasury because of the enlargement of the hospital's task. More patients mean more beds, and more beds require more linen and a dozen other nursing accessories. With the approach of Summer comes a special need of wheel chairs and beds for out of doors. The nurses in training who are giving of their time off for tagging deserve well of the passerby. They are soliciting aid for those who suffer.

A hen at Beguda, Piedmont, regularly lays from ten to twelve eggs daily. Recently, from Italy, too, came the story of a hen at Cerginola, Bari, credited with 122 eggs in forty days, on one of which twelve were laid. These feats make the achievements of the British Columbia record-holders pale into insignificance.

FINE AND POPULAR

Today the Harper plucks the boughs, which answer With separate voice according to their will— Grave as a priest or merry as a dancer— Loud-louder—soft—still.

First the slow pine that speaks eternally Mourning today as it will mourn tomorrow In a great surge of music like the sea— "Sorrow . . . Sorrow."

Then the sudden poplar follows, lying Out to windward, laughing like a boy— Clapping all its thousand leaves and-crying, "Joy, Joy, Joy, Joy!" —Audrey / Alexandra Brown.

SAINT LUBBOCK

Another interesting person I will mention is Sir John Lubbock, banker, philosopher and literary man, who, as Lord Avebury, which he afterwards became, was author of that list of one hundred best books in the world, most of which I have in my own small library.

It was John Lubbock who piloted through Parliament the bill enabling banks to close on Boxing Day, Easter Monday, Whit Monday and the first Monday in August. Up to that time they could only close up on two week-days in the whole year, Christmas Day and Good Friday, and most businesses kept open all day. So grateful were the bank clerks that they called him Saint Lubbock—The Reporters' Magazine.

It is only persons of firmness who can have real gentleness; those who appear gentle are in general only of a weak character, which easily changes into asperity.—Rochefoucauld.

Never let a man imagine that he can pursue a good end by evil means without sinning against his own soul! Any other issue is doubtful; the evil effect on himself is certain.—Southey.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

Buying or selling a house in Victoria? That's good. The values are permanent, as values go. Of course you will need a lot. Any lot in Victoria should be worth $1,000; and if it is not so now, it soon will be. Then there is the house on the lot. There, of course, tastes differ; but you can buy for $3,000 in Victoria a home that would cost you up to $5,000 anywhere else in a city of equivalent size. Remember, please, I said so; because location is something else again. Have you, however, considered the intangibles? Would you pay fourteen cents a day for good climate, equable and temperate for eleven months in the year? You would! That's fine. Would you, say, pay fourteen cents a day for adequate assurance that your house will never burn down? You would. That's great. Now, would fourteen cents a day be too much to pay for good water services? I mean the ability to get water of unquestioned purity, and continuously? I thought you would, too. It's worth fourteen cents a day, don't you think, to be close to yachting, golf, salt water and fresh water fishing, bathing, hiking, hunting, riding, good music, fine gardens, the absence of major crime, and a few other things? I think so, too. Then schools are important, but you can read the government brochures as to that. Still, fourteen cents a day is not too much to pay for accessibility to good schools. Now, let's see. You house should last you twenty years. That's fair, isn't it? That's 7,200 days of useful, peaceful, secured occupancy; in good company, too. Surely you would pay fourteen cents a day to watch the matches panama of the Olympic Mountains? I knew you would. Well, just add $6,000 to the $4,000 that the lot and house would cost, and you have exactly the worth of any home in Victoria!

Yesterday I saw another fine picture on the screen. "The Tale of Two Cities," adapted from Charles Dickens' immortal tale of the French Revolution. This was, I believe, the picture's first or second return, but my first view of it. The film followed the book fairly closely. It preserved its spirit nearly entirely. It lost a little, I thought, by the necessary selection of only parts, and sombre enough parts, of the story; but these parts were well done. No one can re-write Dickens, or at least no one living today; but notwithstanding that the film illuminated and made still more real much that Dickens wrote. Like a small boy, I would have liked to have sat through the show three times more; but that was not practicable. Ronald Colman gave a fine interpretation of the role that helped to make Sir John Martin Harvey famous, and had excellent support in many parts. Back of it all was the great tale spun by the master of human emotions, Charles Dickens, and a worthwhile review of how far apart men may grow in pursuit of what they believe to be their destiny on this earth. It is a story with terrible, graphic lessons; with passions and blood-lusts only partly eradicated from the world today; of suffering and indifference to human wrongs; of greed, and pride, and cant; of violence, unleashed and immoderate to the extent of self-destruction; of man in the image of his Maker, and in images as far apart from that as may well be. The film sent me back to the book with fresh incentive, to find thoughts from which we all can learn, and should. Another first rate picture, which can easily be forgiven minor and minute lapses from the text!

A friend wrote me from Up-Island the other day who once asked me a question I could not answer properly. He asked what became of all the lost companies that are struck from the Provincial registrar year by year? I said they ceased to exist as corporations. That was only partly true, however. The fact is that while many companies cease to exist in this manner, the personnel of many others come back immediately to do business with the public under another name. Most companies are honest. The few that are not however, have a wide-open avenue of escape through the winding-up process. It is there that the XYZ Company ceases to exist, and the PDQ Company is born, with the same directors, the same office, and the same habits. The story could be told in oil leases; in mining promotions; in half a hundred other ways; and it is a pretty story at all its points. It is part of the state that British Columbia must one day clean.

A Curio

We have just seen a cheque for four cents! Payable "to the order of" two Victoria women who, for purposes of anonymity, we will call "A" and "B." It was from the American General Corporation, 70 Montgomery Street, Jersey City, drawn on the First National Bank of Jersey City, 1 Exchange Place, Jersey City. The cheque was stamped "Special Dividend Number 1." How "special" may be judged from the following further information: "A" and "B" were named thereon "as joint tenants with right of survivorship, and not as tenants in common." The exchange on an American cheque payable in Canada is fifteen cents; the cheque had the customary three-cent excise stamp; and it cost three cents postage to send from the point of mailing. The orthodox printed information on the cheque that it was "not good for any amount in excess of $50" was a further nice ironical touch, but we understand that the payee, after endorsing with their two signatures, have for a neat sum sold the cheque as a curio to a friend who is a collector of oddities of the kind.—J.E.M.B.

Doing Great Work

Citizens everywhere will welcome the report presented at an international conference in New York that the medical conquest of St. Vitus Dance is forecast. Tests have proved satisfactory. If the hope of the scientists becomes a reality, one can imagine the number of persons who will be relieved of embarrassment through the cure of their affliction. Artificial fevers completely stopped twitching in 88 per cent of a group of twenty-five children, the conference was told. The fevers reached 105 degrees, lasted eight hours, and generally four treatments terminated all twitching. Therefore it is only natural that humanity appreciates more and more the research of medical men which is resulting in alleviation of suffering. Discoverers of important remedies ask no particular reward, for their greatest consolation is in reaching a goal and knowing that they may make life happier for countless individuals.—J.D.

Through the Window Glass

They had a lean and hungry look. These two cats, even though they reposed in a magnificent room, upon magnificent chairs. There were drapes behind them, and Spring flowers set on a table nearby. They slept in peace, two companions of many a nocturnal adventure, until a terrier, strutting by, disturbed their pleasant dreams of haddock heads and kipper skins, and made strenuous, though fruitless, efforts to reach them. The cats, not one whit lacking in courage, worked themselves into a towering rage and endeavored to scratch the dog. But neither succeeded, for there was a plate glass window between them. This incident occurred quite late one recent evening on a downtown street, with the terrier searching nearby windows and doors for more cats and a method of entry into one of Victoria's largest stores, then closed many hours.—B.G.

One Oracle Is Enough

Versatile J. D. is not the only person who can predict what will take place. We intend to take a shot at the oracle business, so here goes: We predict that haircuts will be increased from thirty-five to fifty cents before the end of next Summer; wages of painters, sheet metal workers and bricklayers will be increased within five months; the Liberal Government will be returned to power in the Province; the C.C.F. and Social Constructives will make a poor showing in the next Provincial election; no ice arena will be built here this year; those playing the stock market will not realize their dreams this year; the City Council will not complete estimates by April 15, as predicted by the chairman of the finance committee; and Bill, the Broad Street barber, will not spend a Summer holiday in California. Somewhere in a building within ten or fifteen minutes' walk of the office there is a comfortable unfurnished flat where neighbors do not get up at 7, 8 or 9 o'clock in the morning and loudly slam doors, where they don't turn a tap-off and let it up suddenly to make a crashing noise in the pipes, where it is possible to use one's radio softly after 11 o'clock at night, where tenants don't lock a door and seize the handle vigorously in both hands to make sure the key turned.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist, of April 9, 1937)

Interstate Commerce Bill—The Canadian Pacific is compiling a new rate sheet to take advantage of the high tariffs imposed on American railroads by reason of the Interstate Commerce Bill. It is reported that merchants have already commenced to ship goods from New York down to the Lawrence and across the lakes to the Canadian Pacific; then across the continent to Vancouver, and this competition will be particularly effective from Chicago and Pittsburgh, and will, in the event of the commission refusing to suspend the long and short haul clause of the interstate bill, force the railroads to reduce their local rates so as to be able to compete with water lines on the through haul.

Smelting Works—G. B. Wright and the gentlemen interested in the establishment of smelting works in connection with the mines of this province were in Ottawa recently on business with the Department of Customs. They were addition fee of duty of the peculiarly-constructed machinery for the purpose of carrying on business. The works are to be erected in the Selkirk range and other parts of British Columbia which are rich in minerals.

Thousand four hundred and fifty sacks of flour were yesterday by the steamer George E. Starr.

The time used is Pacific standard time for the 15th Meridian west. It is counted from 8 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt dock, add 18.5 feet to the height of high water as above given.

SOCIETY HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

Officers Are Returned by the Oak Bay Friendly Help Society

All officers of the Oak Bay Friendly Help Society were returned at the annual meeting held Wednesday afternoon. Following is the list of officers: President, Mrs. R. Taylor; vice-president, Mrs. C. Macdonald; secretary, Mrs. C. Macdonald; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Hudson; executive committee, Mrs. A. T. Goward, Mrs. Edwin Brown, Mrs. Leonard Woodhouse and Mrs. W. W. Bains. Mrs. C. H. Hinkins replaces Mrs. F. Barber-Stark as representative of St. Mary's Church. Mrs. W. J. Goepel was returned as honorary president.

Dr. D. M. Duncan gave an interesting address on social welfare agencies, stressing the value of the community chest idea. One of the important points which the speaker dwelt upon was the unification of the citizens, from continued serving together in the cause of the community.

Reports were given by Mr. Hudson, showing that the requirements of the association had been materially reduced over preceding years, and by Miss A. Bradshaw on her work among the school children. Captain William Ellis thanked the committee for its work on behalf of the municipality.

NO CHANGE IN DUNCAN'S RATE

DUNCAN, April 8.—Duncan's mill rate has been fixed by the city council at 39 mills, the same rate as that imposed last year, although the amount required to be raised is $3,888 more than in 1936. This extra amount is raised on a slightly increased assessment value and on an assessment on 30 per cent of improvement values as against 20 per cent last year.

The city engineer submitted a report showing an estimate of $11,000 for constructing two blocks of concrete street paving on Craig Street, from Station to Ingham Street. The report was laid over for consideration at the next meeting of the council.

Cancer Fund Drive Sponsored by U.C.T. In Canadian Appeal

Lieutenant-Governor, Premier and Others to Take Part in Coronation Parties to Be Held on Wednesday Next Throughout B.C.

UNDER the distinguished patronage of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. E. W. Hamber, the United Commercial Travelers, British Columbia section, were preparing yesterday for "Coronation Parties" to be held on Wednesday next, in aid of funds towards cancer prevention. His Honor and Premier T. D. Pattullo will attend the dinner at Vancouver, occurring simultaneously with similar gatherings through British Columbia.

E. G. Rowbottom, in charge of the drive here, said a supper dance would be held at the Empress Hotel on Wednesday, commencing at 9 p.m., when united response from Victoria citizens is invited.

IN GOOD CAUSE

"We can think of no more fitting tribute to His Majesty King George VI than the nation-wide Coronation celebration in aid of funds for the fight against cancer," Mr. Rowbottom said. "Coronation parties are being sponsored all over Canada by the U.C.T. The entire net proceeds from the British Columbia drive will be turned over to the British Columbia Cancer Foundation, to help them further their object of providing up-to-date facilities for free treatment of cancer victims."

Warmly endorsing the drive, Dr. Henry E. Young, provincial health officer, recalled that the Province had assisted the purchase of radium for Coast hospitals, and was looking forward to the establishment of a cancer clinic at Vancouver shortly.

IS TREATABLE

"Since 1907 there has been a steady increase in the number of cancer cases reported in British Columbia, and while the figures have mounted somewhat alarmingly, some of the increase can be traced to the fact that people today realize that, taken early, cancer can be satisfactorily treated. We hope to increase this work, and so reduce the number of preventable deaths from cancer," Dr. Young said.

"The work already done warrants us in saying that a person may die of cancer, but does not need to die of cancer. I would like to impress on people that cancer is a disease in a person, and cannot be communicated. Through establishment of a diagnostic clinic, it is hoped to induce people to report early, so take advantage of all medical science can now do for them," Dr. Young concluded.

GOING TO CORONATION

TORONTO, April 8.—Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Lands and Forests, will officially represent Ontario at the Coronation. Premier Hepburn announced today. Owing to press of business, the Premier himself will be unable to attend. Lieut.-Gov. Dr. H. A. Bruce also will attend.

INTERMEDIATE GROUPS SEEN*Four One-Act Plays With Young Actors Given at Drama Festival

St. Margaret's School Debating and Dramatic Club yesterday afternoon received the highest marks for scenery awarded up to that time in the British Columbia Drama Festival by being given nine out of a possible ten for their production of six scenes from "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Adjudicator Keimert Wolf paid a high compliment to another of the intermediate entries when he said of the Intermediate Shamrock Players' one-act comedy, "Thursday Evening," that it was the best ensemble playing he had seen in the festival up to that time.

Four intermediate entries composed the afternoon's programme.

SHAKESPEARE

The first entry was the St. Margaret's School production, six scenes from Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream," directed by Miss Miriam Norton, the players being: Patricia Woodward, Joan Fisher, Gladys van Eyck, Elizabeth Angus, Betty Lyman, Vera Kennedy-Smith, Betty Bleakney, Shirley Miller, Joy Aitkins, Hazel Adcock, June MacDonald, Rosemary Williams, Evelyn Lettice, Felicity Grant, Nanette Stevens, Betty Millins, Miriam Schwabe, Phyllis Milligan, Pam Allan, Zelin Munroe, Jean Johnston, Mary Tweedy and Barbara Mutterbury, and the fairy attendants: Barbara Milligan, Sheila Williams, Rosemary Robbins, Daphne Nunn, Violet McConaghy, Louise Holmes and Joan Clark.

This the adjudicator stated he had enjoyed very much. Referring to the fairies, he said he thought they would have been more convincing had their wings not been so large. The girl who played Oberon was complimented; Puck should have been played with more magic.

"MAID OF DOMREMY"

Sefton College presented E. F. Roberts' "The Maid of Domremy," which was also directed by Miss Roberts. The players were: Doreen Lally, Betty Jeanneret, Helen Porter, Maureen King, Margaret McMartin and Frances Street.

The girls would have acted with greater freedom and realism. Mr. Wolf thought, had they done the play without any directing. The children did not believe in some of the lines, and consequently did not play them convincingly. One of the objects of dramatics was to teach children to be self-conscious. The only way to achieve this was to give them a play in which they could lose themselves. Commenting on the lines assigned Joan of Arc, Mr. Wolf said that "The Maid" was a young woman of action who did not lose much time sitting about and being poetic.

"HANNAH GIVES NOTICE"

The Western School of Dancing (Duncan) presented "Hannah Gives Notice," by Alice Thompson, and directed by Gwendolyn Cox. The players were: Sheila McLaughlin, Muriel Jarvis, Marygold Nash and Joan Sullivan.

The girl who played the part of Aunt Julia was complimented for ability. Isabel's part was taken at too slow a pace.

"THURSDAY EVENING"

The Intermediate Shamrock Players presented "Thursday Evening," by Christopher Morley, directed by Marion J. Ord, and played by Leslie Clarke, Dorothy Davies, Betty Young and Clemency Ord.

The stage business in this play was praised "very good," everyone seemed to be moving about well and with definite purpose. The two mothers-in-law were not very convincing when they pretended to quarrel. It was an excellent idea to give amateurs lots of properties to handle, as it gave them an idea how to do it. With the exception of Betty Young, all the players had appeared in the festival previously; all played better, thought Mr. Wolf. The quarrel scene between the young people was good; they seemed to enjoy it more than the last scene, where they were making up.

FRANCE INSISTENT FOR WITHDRAWAL

The advisory board of the International Non-Intervention Committee completed details of the scheme to confine the civil war to Spain by stationing foreign ships along Spain's coasts and foreign observers on her borders.

BRING HOME THE BACON

But don't forget THE beans!

Almost every day in the week, all over Canada, you'll see 'good providers' bringing home a tin or two of Heinz Oven-Baked Beans. They taste so good and are so full of down-right nourishment they make table allowances hit a new high in buying power. They keep the family happy and healthy at a trifling cost.

Beans as Heinz bakes them are not merely run-of-market. They're fine, white fellows, hand-sorted, and baked to golden-brown meelness and digestibility in real ovens. Starch cells are broken up, but the beans themselves are whole; and every one is savoury to the heart with delicious sauces that only Heinz can make.

Next time you order food, be sure to include a few tins of Heinz Oven-Baked Beans. There are 4 kinds—all Oven-Baked—and they're just about the most appetizing as well as the most economical food you can buy.

The Heinz Book of Salads and Meat Recipes gives you hundreds of new recipes to make meals brighter and smarter. Send 25c for a copy. Or, send 10c and 3 labels from 3 tins of Heinz Soups. Address H. J. Heinz Company, Dept. B9, Toronto, Ont.

4 KINDS... All Oven-Baked

1. With pork and tomato sauce
2. Boston Style—with molasses sauce and pork
3. Red Kidney Beans with special sauce
4. Vegetarian—with tomato sauce without pork.

Prepared in Canada at the great Heinz plant, in Lemington, established 1905.

Choral Club Wins Cup In Decorating Contest

The Choral Club won the silver cup in the table-decorating contest at the Y.W.C.A. when each club entered an attractively arranged table. Mrs. J. D. Hunter, Mrs. J. W. Lennox and Mrs. ALEX T. Stewart acted as judges of the competition and the winning table, decorated in Japanese style, was particularly lovely with its miniature Japanese garden and plum blossoms.

Mrs. Stewart presented the winners with the cup, which was originally the gift of the board of directors, and was won last year by the Versatile Club. The other tables were artistic and in many cases original in design, making the task of the judges a difficult one.

About 150 club members and their friends attended the silver tea and musical last evening, and after wandering through the rooms looking at the displays enjoyed an attractive programme in the club rooms, which were gay with Spring flowers.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME

Mrs. W. E. Cushing welcomed the guests and the girls. Miss Edna Burgess sang a solo, accompanied by Miss E. Gower. Robin Wood played a piano solo; the Choral Club, under the direction of Miss E. P. Ede, sang selections, with Mrs. W. Fletcher at the piano; Miss Bernice Ferguson played a violin solo, Mrs. Fletcher accompanying, and a group of Japanese dancers, led by Miss Marjorie Kuwata, delighted the audience.

Each of the decorated tables showed great care and thought. The Versatile Club used their colors, red and silver, carrying the idea out with red and white carnations in a silver basket with red tapers in silver holders and red tulle round the centrepiece.

The Business Club made a little more elaborate showing with their "April Showers Bring May Flowers." A little yellow umbrella with a silver vase holding pretty Spring flowers was the centerpiece, with miniature umbrellas at each corner.

The gymnasium department's table was dainty with a centre of erythroniums in a black bowl and yellow candles in black holders on either side. The Pirates had a minute rock garden with a tiny garden of violets and freesia in the centre. The Y-Owenca table had a bowl of mixed Spring blooms with tapers of the same shades among the flowers. In the lounge, where tea was served, the Craft Club had their display of Winter work done in the craft shop of the Y.W.C.A. Many attractive things were exhibited and showed that a keen interest had been shown by the girls in this department of the Y.W.C.A. Great credit is due to the teachers of this group: Miss Gertrude Snider, Miss Tuckey, Mrs. Whitwell, Mrs. Malone and Mrs. Connelly. The tea table in the lounge was most attractive with its lace cloth and pretty, gay Spring flowers and yellow tapers. Mrs. Cushing and Mrs. Whitwell poured tea.

The committee in charge of tea arrangements was Margaret Lambie, convener; Shigeno Fujikawa, Grace Hall, Mary Marriott, Margaret Partington, Evelyn Baxter and was assisted by Miss Peach and Miss Craig. The money made at the tea will go towards helping to send girls to the Y.W.C.A. regional conference to be held at Camp Piroom on Gambier Island, May 24 week-end.

Canadians to Be Presented Next Month

LONDON, April 8 (P.)—More than eighty Canadian women will be presented to Their Majesties at the Coronation party courts on May 6 and July 1. The court to be held on May 5 is to be reserved for English debutantes—whose number about 250—and other English presentees.

Canadians making their bows will outnumber by a good number those of any previous year and will—in the majority of cases—be girls who are also making their bow to society next season at home.

Unselfish withdrawal of dozens of English debs, who are waiting till next year, has made such a large presentation possible and kept the two later receptions from being overcrowded.

South African presentees are being instructed in the art of making a curtsy by the wife of their High Commissioner, Mrs. Vincent Massey, wife of the Canadian High Commissioner, intends giving parties for the Canadian group, but they expect to learn—their Buckingham Palace party manners from Jean Macpherson, Toronto, and several other dancing and deportment instructors who specialize in such matters in London.

Overseas visitors will have the opportunity of seeing the English debutantes in their parade at a ball on April 26.

The largest number of debs ever brought together for such an occasion will enter the ballroom of Grosvenor House in two long lines, simply gowned in white with smart coiffures and make-up.

They will bring with them a great birthday cake lit with 193 candles, in memory of Queen Charlotte, wife of George III, and curtsy in turn to the Duke and Duchess of Kent, both direct descendants of that Queen. The Duchess will cut the cake.

French Gowns Worn at Angus Campbell's Show

Evening Frocks Among the Outstanding Style Presentations at Spring Fashion Display—Smart Suits and Afternoon Dresses

Romantic, theatrical and sophisticated are the evening gowns from Paris as shown in the Angus Campbell & Co., Ltd., Spring Fashion Show yesterday. Gowns from Molyneux, Chanel and Schiaparelli were among the loveliest of the French dresses. A Royal Bays net from Molyneux was worn by Miss Hadow, the soft romantic note intensified by shirring and a ruffled jacket. Miss Ackerman modeled a charming gown called "Camille," of navy blue net, a Chanel creation, which relied on a "sentimental daisy trim" to relieve the sombre color. In the sophisticated group was a smart print gown by Robert, which Miss Knapton wore, its severe lines and brilliant blending of color making this gown particularly striking. A Rudolph creation of starched marquisette worn by Miss Brinkman was a fascinating combination of dusky blue and the new fuchsia, made with graceful floating scarf ends, while a Lelong model of navy blue net embroidered with chalk white flowers was worn by Miss Morrison. "Cloud of Dust" was the name of a Schiaparelli importation worn by Miss Cummings, a gown of distinction and grace.

FOR EVENING WEAR

Among the loveliest of the evening gowns was a hyacinth blue net made in redingote style, the bodice caught together with narrow cord bows; the net forming huge shoulder epaulettes and the skirt cleverly cut from dozens of yards of material and attached to the waistline of the bodice in points. This was shown to advantage by Miss Ackerman and was applauded.

An unusual evening gown was that worn by Miss Cummings, featuring net over a wide candy stripe silk, cut diagonally, and a Coronation chignon worn by Miss Morrison was of a lovely two-tone fuchsia material. Distinctly for the juvenile fille were the pink net and the aqua lace and net gowns worn by Miss Knapton and Miss Hadow.

WEDDING GROUP

In the bridal group a delightful blending of color was noticed, the four bridesmaids' frocks, yellow, mauve, pink and green, forming an effective background for the bride (Miss Brinkman). The bride's gown was of lustrous ivory crepe back satin, made very simply with a narrow braided cord at the waistline, the sleeves tapering from the upper arm to tight fitting points over the hand. A full court train hung from the waistline and a Brussels net veil was attached to a coronet of orange blossoms and hung in folds over the gown.

The bridesmaids in yellow and mauve net, Miss Knapton and Miss Hadow, wore frocks trimmed with ruffled bandings, and Miss Ackerman and Miss Cummings in pink and green wore frocks on which the ruffled formed round plaques on the skirts and shoulder capes. Their little Victorian hats were of net, trimmed with French flowers. The matron of honor in the group, Miss Morrison, wore a dignified and beautifully cut gown of pink lace. The "bride" and her attendants carried fragrant bouquets of spring flowers.

SUITS AND DRESSES

Suits and coats of that quality which makes Angus Campbell's tailored stock so distinctive, were shown. One of the smartest was a two-piece navy blue with touches of cardinal red which emphasized the modish Coronation theme. She carried a smart red striped umbrella. Loose fitting cloths coats and neat tailored models were equally popular and with these were worn little straw hats, many of them with flower trimmings.

A black and white Goffex two-piece print dress was of exceptionally good style and a navy blue bolero frock relied on a long red sash for contrasting trimmings. There were prints of every imaginable design and color, smart navy and black suits, and one navy ensemble was trimmed in military style with rows of tiny mother-of-pearl buttons. For afternoon wear there were braid-trimmed black crepes, a diaphanous hyacinth blue chiffon, worn by Miss Brinkman, who also modeled a charming black frock, with a white collar and a very full skirt and "Fire Fly," a printed crepe to which innumerable tiny diamond beads which glittered among the colors on the print.

Music Enjoyed At Bridge and Afternoon Tea

A delightful musical programme given during the tea hour was a feature of the bridge tea held yesterday afternoon in the dining-room of David Spencer Limited, under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary to the Children's Aid. Mrs. Donald A. McAdie, the president, was assisted by Mrs. A. H. Tuson in arranging the party and welcomed the guests.

Twenty-eight tables were in progress, both auction and contract being played. Prizes were drawn for, thus giving the tea guests an opportunity of receiving a prize, and were won as follows: First, Mrs. J. Cameron; second, Mrs. R. T. Murphy; third, Mrs. J. Saunders. Solos were sung by Mrs. F. G. Aldous, "Poor Man's Garden" and "All's Right With the World," accompanied by Mrs. Pierre Timp. Mrs. William Ellis sang "Thoughts Have Wings," "As I Went a-Roving" and "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," and she was accompanied by Mrs. Olive Matier.

Guild Sponsors Address by Dean

"Our Monarchs Since 1837" was the subject of a scholarly address given by Dean Quinton at the Memorial Hall on Wednesday evening, sponsored by the Cathedral Women's Parish Guild in aid of its funds.

The Dean reviewed the life and reign of Queen Victoria, showing that she had been more honored after her death than during her long and able occupancy of the throne. He spoke of her son, King Edward VII, recalling his diplomacy in cementing the friendly relations between Great Britain and other parts of Europe, and also paid tribute to the late King George, and touched briefly upon the brief reign of former King Edward VIII. Of the present sovereign, the speaker spoke in warm praise, expressing the opinion that while he had been overshadowed by the more dominant personality of his elder brother, he possessed the attributes which make for kingship of the highest type. The delightful musical programme included: "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" and "An Open Secret," sung by Miss Norah Jones, with Mrs. Baker at the piano; Mr. A. W. Palmer, accompanied by Miss White, sang "Land of Hope and Glory" and "Beloved Devon"; Mr. P. Edmonds, whose songs were "Soldier What of the Night" and "It's a Mighty Good World," and Miss Swain, who was accompanied by Mrs. Cleall, sang "To the Sun" and "Rain."

A congregational basket social will be held next Wednesday in the Metropolitan United Church schoolroom. Ladies are asked to come with a daintily decorated basket containing refreshments for two, which the gentlemen will purchase for a small sum. Tea will be provided by the Chummy Club. A programme is being arranged. Sherr Furniture Polish is so much easier to use. Order today. McKenna Street Grocery, 235 Cook Street.

TO BE PRESENT AT CORONATION

Reeve and Mrs. Taylor, Oak Bay Municipality, Will Attend Ceremony in Old Country

Reeve R. R. Taylor, of Oak Bay, and Mrs. Taylor will attend the Coronation in London this summer. Born in England, Reeve Taylor has not returned to his native land since he left it a young boy with his parents.

Reeve and Mrs. Taylor will leave here about April 20. Two months will be spent in the British Isles before returning.

In view of the reeve's departure at an early date, it is the intention to hold a meeting of Oak Bay council on Thursday, April 15, when all pressing business will be dealt with. There will be no meeting of the council before that date. During the absence of the reeve, Councillor Richard Angus will be acting reeve.

Monte Carlo Games At Alumni Party

One of the major features of the Hi Jinks party planned by the alumni of U.B.C. in Victoria for tonight will be the miniature Monte Carlo. Commencing at 8:30 o'clock, at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, the alumni and their friends will have the novel opportunity of amassing or losing a fortune. A wide variety of gambling games will be available, some of these being roulette, crown and anchor, under and over, wheel of fortune and bingo.

During the latter part of the evening several clever skills will be presented. Graduates of U.B.C., their wives or husbands and their friends are cordially invited to attend.

"One word more and I return to mother—you know what that will cost you."

Mrs. Hebert, Victoria, opened the programme with two charming solos, "Love, the Pedlar" (German) and "Big Lady Moon" (Coleridge Taylor). Mrs. E. Lewis Smith, gifted violinist, formerly of Penticton, delighted the group with her spirited "Scene de Ballet" (De Beriot). She played as an encore, "Trois Morceaux" (Peschikoff). Mrs. J. W. Bishop, Victoria, a generous contributor to the club programmes, sang sweetly, "Little Feller" and "I Know a Lovely Garden." The three artists were very capably accompanied by Mrs. E. G. Paddon. Miss Janet Dobbs, Gordon Head, a great favorite, gave two humorous readings, "Mr. Brown Gets a Haircut" and "Mary's Little Puff."

Flowers were sent to Mrs. Peter McNaughton, organizer and chairman of the club, who was unable to be present. Tea was served under the convenship of Mrs. Sargent, assisted by Miss Williamson, Mrs. Tucker, Mrs. Grayfair and Mrs. Skilling.

CHAPTER XX

An uncounted host of listeners heard Ronny MacAllister describe the indoor polo meet at Squadron A that last Thursday in January, the Rangers-Boston hockey game at Boston the next night, and the Sunday afternoon events of the carnival at Hanover two days later. Not a few who thought they detected the absence of some vital quality in the announcer's familiar voice.

Ronny himself had known his broadcasting had lacked—as it had for six miserable weeks—an intangible something that had made it distinctive. "If I'm off my oats, I'm off my oats," he told himself, and pushed the thought that he was not up to snuff or out of his mind. He was on his way to Maple Village, now, to his mother's, to the little town in which he had spent the first seventeen years of his life, where he knew and liked everyone and everyone knew and liked him, and made him know they liked him.

Long ago Ronny had explained in letters to his mother—and one brief note, dictated by conscience, to Lucille Baldwin—his failure to keep his Christmas engagement.

Lucille had written: "Your mother was so awfully disappointed. As we all were, of course. Try to come soon, Ronny. We never miss a programme when you are 'broadcasting,' but hearing your voice isn't quite enough. We, your Maple Village friends, like you better than you know and we see so little of you. And, reading that, Ronny had thought, "Why that everlasting editorial 'we' she seems to be in mortal fear I'll think she's personally interested in me. We thought a lot of each other that last year in high school."

Two hours and a half after boarding the bus at Hanover, Ronny was sitting at a table in his mother's kitchen finishing an enormous supper, grinning broadly as he listened to his mother's quiet account of the reception the townspeople had planned for his Christmas visit.

"You're something of a hero in Maple Village, Ronny," she told him with ill-concealed amusement. "I can't begin to tell you the number of people who dropped in, here or at the office. Lucille was at the bottom of it, of course. She was determined to make a three-day carnival of your stay."

Mrs. MacAllister was tall, grown rather large these last few years, a woman of tremendous energy despite her sixty-four active years. When her husband died, she had not only taken over the manifold duties of editor, advertising solicitor and circulation manager of the Guardian, the weekly paper he had founded, but had presently added a job printing plant, and made a success of both. If Maple Village had ever been called upon to name its most valuable citizen, she would have been the almost unanimous choice for that honor, for she was loved by a great many, respected by all who read her small but fearless and eminently fair newspaper, and praised—though never to her face, for that was not the Maple Village way—for the great amount of good she did.

among needy families for miles abroad. His heels hooked on a round of the chair, Ronny fished an old pipe from his pocket. "How is Lucille, by the way? I think I wrote you I had a nice note from her." He filled the bowl of the pipe, keeping his eyes on the job in hand. "Pretty as ever, I suppose."

"Prettier," his mother said. "Though there's more to Lucille than a pretty face. She's going to make some man a fine wife, Ronny." His eyes came up, laughing. "Any particular man in mind?"

Mrs. MacAllister laughed softly. "I'll know more about that when you've been here week or two."

Ronny's face sobered. "Sorry, Mom, but I've got to be on my way Tuesday morning. I'm on the air from Washington Tuesday night, then on to Pittsburgh and the coast, and back to the training camps in Florida. Unless they change my orders, I won't be back in New York again before Mayor LaGuardia tosses the first ball in the Yankee Stadium." Then he was smiling again, teasing. "But I'll be here to-morrow and to-morrow night, and if Lucille happens along—"

Lucille Baldwin happened along—by invitation, though Ronny didn't know that—in time for midday dinner next day, and it took Ronny a full minute to realize this was the same Lucille who had been "Ronny MacAllister's girl" through two years of high school. His mother had not prepared him for the fact that Lucille's comeliness came close to real beauty. She was quite tall and dark and superbly formed, and her black eyes peered out from beneath curved lashes with the disconcerting assurance and complete and natural poise.

Ronny thought, "Small town girl, my eye! There's no such thing any more."

He said, somewhat reassured by the slow spread of color in her cheeks, "The last time I saw you we were making plans to go to a skating party at Marty's pond—and we never did because you went down to Boston to visit your Aunt Sarah, and before you came back Mom had shipped me off to school."

Lucille said, taking off her hat and slipping her arm through Mrs. MacAllister's, "There's no party on to-night, but Marty's pond is still there and the chances are we'll have a grand moon." And broke into a little ripple of laughter.

"Well!" Ronny grinned. Why, he wondered, with this unexpectedly charming girl obviously eager to go on from that romantic love affair of high school days, was there still that aching emptiness in his heart? They went to Marty's pond that night, but kept well away from the bright glow of the blazing fire, and Ronny was not recognized. And, telling Lucille good-bye shortly before eleven o'clock, Ronny said, "I may see you for a minute tomorrow, but I expect to give Mom a hand at the shop, and you know how things drag out there. If I don't—let me know when you get to Boston again. I'd like to run up if I can get away."

Grandfather Frog and Old Mr. Toad Dispute

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Old Mr. Toad was indignant, very indignant. Indeed, he was so indignant that for a minute he couldn't find his tongue. You see he had made a long journey across the Green Meadow to the Smiling Pool to congratulate Grandfather Frog, who, you know, is his cousin, on having escaped choking to death by trying to swallow a fish when his stomach was already full. When he got there he found Grandfather Frog in a bad temper because all day long he had been teased and made fun of because of his foolish greed.

Very foolishly old Mr. Toad had told Grandfather Frog that if he had been out in the Great World he would have known better than to have tried to swallow that fish, and Grandfather Frog had replied that he ought to learn to mind his own affairs. When old Mr. Toad did find his voice he said some very unpleasant things and right away began a dispute which Grandfather Frog and Mr. Toad have every time they meet—whether it is best to spend one's life in one place or go out into the Great World.

"What good are you to anybody but yourself, never seeing anything of the Great World and not knowing anything about what is going on or what other people are doing?" asked old Mr. Toad.

"I'm minding my own affairs and not meddling with things that don't concern me, as seems to be the way out in the Great World," retorted Grandfather Frog. "Wise people know enough to be content with what they have. You've been out in the Great World ever since you could hop, and what good has it done you? Tell me that. You haven't even a decent suit of clothes to your back." Grandfather Frog patted his white and yellow waistcoat as he spoke and looked admiringly at the reflection of his handsome green coat in the Smiling Pool.

Old Mr. Toad's eyes snapped; for you know his suit is very plain and rough.

"People who do honest work for their living have no time to sit about in fine clothes admiring themselves," he replied sharply. "I've learned this much out in the Great World that lazy people come to no good end. I know enough not to—choke myself to death. I've noticed that those who sit around doing nothing are usually the greediest."

Grandfather Frog almost choked again. He was so angry. You see old Mr. Toad's remarks were getting personal, and nobody likes personal remarks when they happen to be true. Old Mr. Toad smiled, for he saw that he had hit Grandfather Frog's feelings in a tender place. This

"Oh!" replied old Mr. Toad. "I'm not afraid!"

THESE FACTS are worth knowing

1. This fabric washes very easily . . . can be washed 50 to 100 times without loss of beauty or strength.
2. Will wear for months . . . does not crack and split . . . perspiration proof.
3. Remarkably free from faults because the yarn is so very regular.
4. Healthy—Celanese is a wonderful insulator; thus preserving the body heat in cool weather and in hot weather it keeps the heat out.
5. The humidity of air has no effect on Celanese. It has a fixed moisture content of not more than 4%, therefore always feels dry and comfortable.
6. COLORFAST—the dyes used (which were invented specially for Celanese), are much faster than is necessary commercially. Sun, soap, water, perspiration will NOT fade these colors.
7. Celanese fabrics do not shrink or sag or stretch or lose their shape.

made Grandfather Frog angrier than ever, and he was trying his best to think of something sharp to say in reply, when Mr. Redwing, sitting at the top of the big hickory tree, shouted, "Here comes Farmer Brown's Boy."

Grandfather Frog forgot his anger and began to look anxious. He moved about uneasily on his big green lily-pads and got ready to dive into the Smiling pool, for he was afraid that Farmer Brown's Boy had a pocketful of stones, as he usually did have when he came over to the Smiling Pool. Old Mr. Toad didn't look troubled the least bit. He didn't even look around for a hiding place. He just sat still and grinned.

"You'd better watch out or you'll never visit the Smiling Pool again," called Grandfather Frog.

"Oh," replied old Mr. Toad. "I'm not afraid. Farmer Brown's Boy is a friend of mine. I help him in his garden. How to make friends is one of the things the Great World has taught me."

"Chugurum!" said Grandfather Frog. "I'd have you know that—" But what it was that he was to know old Mr. Toad never found out, for just then Grandfather Frog caught sight of Farmer Brown's Boy, and without waiting to even say good-bye, he dived into the Smiling Pool.

What Today Means

"ARIES"

If April 9 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:45 to 10:45 a.m., from 3:45 to 5:45 p.m., and from 7:45 to 9:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 6:45 to 8:45 a.m., from 5:45 to 7:45 p.m., and from 9:45 to 11:45 p.m.

Failure to keep promises will be responsible for many of this day's discordant conditions, and the primary cause of most of its quarrels. You must avoid taking a narrow-minded viewpoint about any social or domestic arrangement requiring your ultimate decision. Be careful that in anger you say nothing that might be construed as derogatory to someone's character, for trouble is liable to originate from this source. Headlong haste, or failure to look where you are going, are dangers that require precautions to be taken, to prevent their resulting in accidents this day. You may have the opportunity to take the lead in some social activity, and it might be good judgment if you do so. Low-pitched voices possibly will be more effective in controlling situations than loud or shrill tones, so it will be wise to keep your modulated. Married and engaged couples, as well as those whom Cupid is trying to unite, will make a serious mistake this day to assume in any way a theatrical mannerism in either speech or carriage.

If a woman and April 9 is your birthday, you have, most likely, a lively imagination, a witty tongue and a quick temper. Your popularity can be enhanced by keeping the latter under control. Your social graces ought to prove to be one of your most valuable assets. It might be well to cultivate the habit of planning your daily activities before you start upon them. Be systematic if you wish to escape making many mistakes, for many people born on this date are seriously handicapped by doing things in a haphazard fashion. Avoid appearing to be straitlaced or very reserved. As a short story writer, actress, interior decorator, musician or artist you ought to be able to achieve success without much of a struggle. Your matrimonial dreams are apt to be realized.

The child born on April 9 probably upon reaching its majority will embark upon a career that will make it a distinguished member of society. This youngster perhaps will be offered an exceptional number of brilliant opportunities.

If a man and April 9 is your natal day, if you make wise use of your talents nothing can prevent your ambitions from being realized. As an educator, lecturer, preacher, actor, physician, lawyer or author you may win a marvelous reputation.

ROTARIANS OF ISLAND GATHER

Victorians to the Number of 120 Make Trip by Special Train to Nanaimo

Rotary as far as Vancouver Island was concerned was on parade on Wednesday. To the number of about three hundred, members of the various island clubs and their ladies gathered in Nanaimo and partook of a dinner at the Eagles' Hall, when an entertaining programme was provided.

Members of the Victoria Rotary Club traveled in state, having a special train service on the E. & N. provided. Decorated with the Rotary wheel to designate the fact that it was carrying members of the Rotary Club and their ladies to the number of 120, the train stopped only at Duncan en route to and from Nanaimo.

PROVIDED MUSIC

The excellent orchestra of the Victoria Rotary Club accompanied the excursion and provided music en route, as well as at the dinner, with Tom Kelway leading the community singing, so time was not allowed to hang heavy on the trip.

At the Nanaimo dinner all the other clubs added their quota to a composite programme. The clubs represented were Victoria, Nanaimo, Duncan, Courtenay, and the latest to be formed, Alberni district.

Frank Cunliffe, Nanaimo, delivered a short address, and Percy Scourrah, Victoria, spoke on the formation of Rotary. William Shelly, Vancouver, also contributed an ex-

THRILLING speedboat races form the feature of The Colonist Universal Newsreel, showing for the first time today at the Dominion Theatre. Hundreds of sleek, powerful craft competed in the classic event held at Biscayne Bay, off Miami, Florida. New designs and new types of engines present unlooked-for resources of speed, while daredevil pilots provide the spectators with thrills galore. In a different class is the speed record set by the Normandie, which is shown as she enters harbor after setting a new trans-Atlantic mark, bettering that by the Queen Mary by a few hours. ## DESTROYERS AT HALIFAX

Skeena, Saguenay and St. Laurent Welcomed to Nova Scotia Port

HALIFAX, April 8.—Three of Canada's four warships steamed into Halifax harbor today. Escorting H.M.C.S. Skeena and Saguenay, the newly-purchased destroyer St. Laurent entered Canadian waters for the first time.

A Royal Canadian Air Force seaplane dropped in salute above the little flotilla as whistles of vessels in port boomed a welcome. The St. Laurent and the Fraser, now on her way to the Pacific coast, were purchased from the British Government and have been engaged in naval manoeuvres with this British West Indies Fleet off Bermuda.

OTTAWA, April 8.—The National Defence Department today announced the following appointments and promotion:

Lieut.-Commander W. B. L. Holms, appointed to H.M.C.S. Skeena, additional staff officer to captain "D." Lieut. E. P. Tisdall appointed to H.M.C.S. Fraser as executive officer and for general-governor duties, West Coast.

Lieut. E. W. Finch-Noyes appointed to H.M.C.S. Stadacona, Halifax, for headquarters, Ottawa, additional temporary, Lieut. B. R. Spencer, promoted to Lieutenant-commander H.M.C.S. Saguenay.

Doctor: "Your husband is too fond of strong coffee. You must not let him have it. He gets too excited." Wife: "But, doctor, you should see how excited he gets when I give him weak coffee."

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

MAKE CONSTRUCTIVE PLAYS

In playing a hand you should be careful to keep stoppers in your opponents' strong suit or suits as long as you can.

Avoid leading a suit in which you will develop more trick winners for your opponents than for yourself. You should keep whatever winning cards you have as stoppers.

Important—Remember that at trump contracts your established long suit winners in the trump suit are valuable as stoppers. They prevent your opponents from winning tricks in any suit in which you are void. Until you have developed as many tricks as possible in other suits, do not use your long trumps, except when you need an entry, or when you will lose a trick if you do not ruff it. Take the following hand as an example:

South, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

NORTH
♥ Q 6 5
♦ A 9 4
♣ Q J 7 4

WEST EAST
♠ Q 8 ♠ J 10 9 2
♥ J 10 4 ♥ 7 2
♦ K Q 10 6 2 ♦ J 8 5 2
♠ A 5 2 ♠ K 6 3

SOUTH
♠ K 7 5 4
♥ A K 9 8 3
♣ 10 9 8

On normal bidding you would be the declarer with the South hand at a contract of four hearts. Typical bidding would be:

South West North East
1♥ 2♣ 2NT Pass
3♥ Pass 4♥ Pass
Pass Pass

West opens the king of diamonds and you would win with dummy's ace. Since Dummy's trumps cannot be used as ruff, you immediately would draw the adverse trumps. After taking three rounds of trumps you could go on winning tricks without losing the lead for quite a long time. You could take two more trumps and then the ace and king of spades, but after that you would be through. The opponents would take the rest of the tricks with their high clubs and diamonds. Therefore, you should save your trumps and your top spades.

VICTORIAN IS ON "GO" AGAIN

Alexander P. McLean, Aged Ninety, Will See Coronation in London

MONTREAL, April 8.—In his nineteenth year, Sandy McLean, Victoria, is on the "go" again. He will sail tomorrow on the liner Duchess of Bedford from Saint John for the Coronation.

The pioneer railroader, whose proper name is Alexander P. McLean, left Montreal tonight, resuming his 6,000-mile journey to London to witness the crowning of King George VI.

"I saw the Coronation of his dad," said McLean, who worked for the Canadian Pacific Railway in the early days in Southern Saskatchewan, "and now I want to see the young fella's."

Sandy came to Canada from Perthshire, Scotland, and joined the railway as a boiler-washer in Moose Jaw in 1898. After his retirement in 1915, he moved to the Coast, where he "keeps fit as an antelope." His only regret is that he has to make the trip alone. Mrs. McLean, who came with him to Canada, died fifteen years ago.

JOE E. BROWN IN DOMINION FILM

Popular Favorite Appears in Hilarious Screen Comedy "When's Your Birthday?"

The most hilarious screen comedy in which Joe E. Brown has ever appeared is promised in "When's Your Birthday?" the feature attraction at the Dominion Theatre commencing today.

Many of the laughable situations occur after Brown, very much a dub as a prize fighter, becomes a professional astrologer, to find himself the centre of a swift succession of events during which he sees more stars than there are on his chart. The climax is a veritable riot of laughter.

This rollicking screenplay is Brown's first Loew picture for release by R.K.O. Radio, and was directed by Harry Beaumont. The cast supporting the wise-cracking Joe E. includes Marian Marsh, Fred Keating, Edgar Kennedy, Minor Watson and Suzanne Kaaren.

CAPITOL Carole Lombard and Theatre Fred MacMurray, the romantic team of "A Princess Comes Across" and "Hands Across the Table," are together again in "Swing High, Swing Low," a dramatic love story with music, which shows for the last times today at the Capitol Theatre.

In order to make a public statement like that and "get away with it" you've got to be pretty sure of your ground. Why don't I have colds? I'm exposed to as many drafts, as many wet days, as many germs as anyone; more than most people, in fact. Yet I don't have colds or any other sickness. The reason is that my natural resistance is so great that disease germs do not get a foothold in my system. My cells are so vital they destroy the less vital "germs," but in most persons the situation is the reverse. If the cells are devitalized by errors in diet, exercise, etc., then the "germs" are more vital. They can more than hold their own against the less vital body cells. They take up their abode in the body, live off its cells and multiply with unbelievable rapidity. Their rapid multiplication and growth produce toxic substances. It is these toxic substances which cause the fever, pain, weakness and other manifestations which we know as sickness and disease. We need not have these manifestations if we would keep our blood stream in a normal healthy state. Then the cells nourished by

SWELL OPENED
SEAMS OF BOAT

SEATTLE, April 8 (AP).—The schooner Republic arrived here today with six Seattle men, rescued when their halibut boat Fairway sank twenty-five miles off Triangle Island, Monday. It was the first word here of the accident.

Triangle Island is west of Queen Charlotte Sound, off the northwest tip of Vancouver Island.

The halibut men said a tremendous swell opened the Fairway's seams, and they took to the dories after two hours' vain efforts to keep the schooner afloat. She sank after twelve hours, with 8,000 tons of fish aboard.

The halibut schooner President rescued them, and transferred them to the Seattle-bound Republic.

TRAVELING BAG
FOR COLLEAGUE

Transportation Men Made
Presentation to David
Alexander Yesterday

Victoria transportation men took time out yesterday afternoon, busy as they were, to attend a gathering in the Great Northern ticket office, where they were summoned for the purpose of presenting "Dave" Alexander with a token of their esteem before he departs to take up his new position in his company's service at Vancouver. The gathering accounted for the "back in ten minutes sign" which was displayed around about 4 p.m. on the majority of ticket office doors on Government Street, for at least half an hour, anyway.

"Dave" who will leave for Vancouver on Wednesday next, was presented, on behalf of local railway and steamship representatives, with a smart gentleman's traveling bag of leather. James Macfarlane, general agent in Victoria for the "world's greatest travel system," made the presentation, and in a few well chosen words spoke of the high regard in which "Dave" is held by the transportation fraternity of Victoria, voicing general regret because he was leaving the city, and at the same time extending congratulations on the attainment of well-earned promotion.

CONSTANT REMINDER

Replying, the city passenger agent of the Great Northern thanked everyone for their kindly wishes and very useful gift, which would be a constant reminder of his pleasant associations with Victoria ticket men for over six years. Other members of office staffs along Victoria's transportation row also availed themselves of the opportunity to congratulate Mr. Alexander on his transfer to a wider field and wish him good luck. Among those present were C. W. Meldrum, assistant passenger agent of the Great Northern at Seattle, who was pleased to be present, he said, at the little ceremony which marked the official severance of a company employee with his transportation associates in Victoria.

WELCOMED AT ACADEMY HERE

Bishop John C. Cody Warmly Greeted by St. Ann's Sisters and Pupils

Sisters and pupils of St. Ann's Academy gave a reception in honor of Most Rev. John C. Cody, D.D., at 10:30 yesterday morning, when the Bishop of Victoria briefly addressed the girls, delivered his blessing and granted them a holiday.

The pretty auditorium, which was lavishly decked with Spring flowers, was filled to capacity, when Bishop Cody, accompanied by Most Rev. W. M. Duke, D.D., Archbishop of Vancouver and Metropolitan of British Columbia, and about thirty other clergy entered and took seats on the stage. The programme, which opened with a piano duet and chorus, "Hail to the Lord's Anointed," included a short address of welcome to the visiting clergy by Miss Victoria Bobs-Canavan, and the more formal address of greeting to Bishop Cody, read by Miss Frances Cowden. In this last the school pledged filial devotion to the new incumbent.

In his reply, Bishop Cody commented on the number of changes in bishops experienced by the Diocese of Victoria within the last few years. He asked for the prayers and remembrance of each and all.

DISTINGUISHED CLERGY

Other distinguished visiting clergy present included Most Rev. E. M. Bunon, vicar-apostolic of Prince Rupert and the Yukon; Most Rev. Gerald Murray, Bishop of Saskatoon; Most Rev. M. M. Johnson, Bishop of Nelson; Most Rev. J. L. Coudert, coadjutor vicar-apostolic, Prince Rupert; and Most Rev. F. P. Carroll, Bishop of Calgary. On arrival at the convent the clergy were welcomed by the Mother Provincial and the Sister Superior of the academy. Bishop Cody's father, Mr. David Cody, Ottawa, who has come from Ottawa to be the guest of his son for some weeks, was also present.

Before the reception, the clergy visited the historic convent chapel, which is the original cathedral of the diocese. Later they visited the convent museum under the guidance of the venerable curator, Sister Mary Theodora.

At midday, Bishop Cody and visiting prelates and diocesan clergy were the guests of the Sisters at luncheon at St. Joseph's Hospital nurses' home. The flower-decked tables were set in the auditorium.

TO FIGHT DOMINATION OF LABOR PROFITEERS

2,500 cheering strikers of General Motors of Canada, Limited, he would not allow the Canadian or Ontario Government to send militia or police here to interfere in the strike.

"Enforcement of law and order is the duty of the municipality," said Mayor Hall. "We have our own police force to look after our own troubles here. Neither the police chief (Owen D. Friend) nor I have requested any assistance to enforce law and order.

"So far there has been no indication of wholesale law breaking and no reason to believe there may be."

WALKOUT IS ORDERLY

OSHAWA, Ont., April 8 (P.)—Oshawa's 3,700 automobile workers clung tonight to the new and militant labor structure of John L. Lewis. At the command of Lewis lieutenants they walked from General Motors of Canada plants here this morning, demanding recognition of the United Automobile Workers of America.

Within a few hours of the orderly strike action, a scheduled conference for negotiation fell through and company officials reiterated their refusal to recognize the U.A.W.A., affiliated with the Lewis-led Committee for Industrial Organization, which staged sit-down strikes last month in Detroit motor car factories. There was no violence, little cheering and considerable precision as the auto workers entered the plants at 7 o'clock, punched the time clocks and marched out again. Picket lines were set up immediately, only the administrative office building being open to executives and office employees.

Boat Found—Hodd Brothers reported to Stanich police yesterday that they found a ten-foot white-painted rowboat with oars and rowlocks adrift in Gorge waters.

BUSINESS IS ON UPTREND

W. M. Neal, of C.P.R., Looks For Better Times During Present Year

"The constant advertising of the Evergreen Playground is making its effect felt in the Northwest, and tourist business should show a definite advance over 1936," said W. M. Neal, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway in charge of western lines, who registered at the Empress Hotel yesterday, on his periodical tour of inspection.

"We should have a good year," he commented. "The anticipated advance in grain prices will assist the lumber business. We have noticed an advance in car loadings, while there is greater activity among manufacturers."

POLICY FOR 1937

Improvement was more noticeable in the East, he pointed out, intimating that figures were still below those of 1936-37, and had a long way to go to reach those of 1939.

Policy of the company in its programme for 1937 is largely concentrated in improving its rolling stock. Air-conditioned cars and other improvements will add to the comfort of the traveling public, while a new, fast trans-continental train is soon to be placed in service.

Mr. Neal will leave Victoria tomorrow, and return to Winnipeg by way of the Kettle Valley Railroad.

SINKING FUND IS TAKEN OVER

City Council to Save $1,250 Per Annum Through Suggestion of Mayor

Mayor Andrew McGavin announced yesterday D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller and treasurer, and G. A. Okell, city assessor and collector, had completed the checking and taking over of the city's sinking fund and other investments from the bank. Bonds were stored in a safety deposit box.

For several months Mayor McGavin had been interested in elimination of the payment of $1,200 per year to the bank to safeguard city securities, and institute a saving by storing bonds in a safety deposit box at $50 per year. His motion to that effect was introduced to the council by the finance committee and passed last month. During the Mayor's election campaign last December, he mentioned several times that the $1,200 payment could easily be eliminated as a measure of economy.

Securities taken over from the bank and stored in a safety deposit box included $330,021.58 in outside securities and $1,510,256.97 City of Victoria bonds, both fully registered; $720,500 outside securities and $1,110,146.64 City of Victoria securities, all coupon registered bonds; $1,200 outside securities and $6,500 City of Victoria securities, all bearer bonds. Coupon bonds taken over bear half-yearly coupons with a value of $43,702.52, and one annual coupon bond producing $65.

Seattle Indians Defeat Oakland in Coast Loop

Northwest Pennant Seekers Gain 8-3 Decision During Steady Rainfall—Two Homers Win Game for Sacs Over Los Angeles

OAKLAND, April 8 (P.)—Seattle Indians defeated Oakland, 8 to 3, today in a game called off because of rain during an eighth-inning rally by the Oaks.

Manager Bill Meyer said he would officially protest Umpire Frank Valerio's ruling on the grounds the arbiter should have given a half-hour postponement instead of five minutes and that he should not have called off the contest while the Oaks were in the midst of a scoring spree.

The score was 9 to 5 at the time, but with the game called off the count reverted back to that at the end of the seventh.

It rained from the second inning on. R. H. E. Seattle 8 10 0 Oakland 3 6 3 Batteries—Gregory and Bassler; Douglas, Olds and Raimondi, McCaskill.

REGINA BEATEN BY 'PEG' CAGERS

REGINA, April 8 (P.)—Thirteen was an unlucky number for Regina's Oconot basketballers tonight as they dropped their Dominion playdown game to Winnipeg St. Andrews 38-26 to leave themselves the task of overcoming that ten-point deficit in Friday's series windup.

Taking the jump on St. Andrews the Oconots had 1,000 fans in an uproar early in the game as they started to pile up a lead. They ran the count to 13-4 before the match was many minutes old, and then they faded. Winnipeg ran up twenty points before the Regnans shook loose of the "thirteen" jinx.

WILL WORK ON RACING TRACK

Automotive Sports Association to Make Season's Plans—Name Officers

Francis Morris was yesterday evening named president of the B.C. Automotive Sports Association at the annual meeting held in the British Public Schools Club, Langley Street.

Jack Smith, veteran local automobile racer and one of the hardest workers in the interest of the game, was named vice-president. Bert Sutton was elected secretary and Ed Allen was named treasurer.

Jack Taylor, owner of the Langford Speedway, was re-elected honorary president.

An early move on surfacing the track at Langford will be made and a working party has already been organized for Sunday, April 18. A number of the members of the B.C.A.S.A. will be on hand for the working bee, the first of the year.

While no definite date has been set, steps will be made to stage a race meeting at the Langford Speedway on May 12, Coronation Day. Plans are going forward to have motorcycle racing added to the programme this year.

When he was just over four, my lad was very much interested in a wedding that he had seen. For days afterwards he would speak of nothing else. One night he asked me: "Daddy, have you been married?"

"Yes, of course—to mamma," I replied.

"Is it very hard to get married?" he continued.

"No," I replied, "we did not find it very difficult." After some cogitation he spoke again.

"Of course, it was not difficult for you, because you only got married to mamma, but I must marry some strange woman."

Another week and another Round-Up.

Sarah: If my husband told me he no longer loved me, that he wanted to "get away," that he would "fix it so legally that I would be taken care of," I should feel as you do, that the death of love is a tragedy, but that it must be the end of the play. You, nor I, nor the wives of Solomon can compel a man to live with us and to love us. A dead love is dust. We must accept the inevitability of change in human hearts and in human relations, and be gallant enough to start all over again—on a new road.

John: Good work! You told the girl it was either you with a movie—maybe a walk if you hadn't the price of a picture—or the widower with a car and plenty of money in his pocket. You could offer the girl you love marriage, on a best basis. He offers her a good time with marriage—maybe. The fact that she has made such definite decision between you two, and has chosen love and struggle with the right man, is evidence that she is of sound timber. There may come a time soon, in a pinch of economy, when she will regret her choice, and that is the time for you to be a real knight of love. Treat her as you did in the sweetheart days that won her, and take the last cent out of your pocket to carry her to where it is she wants to go.

For Ellen: "Please forget about yourself and think about the people around you. I was so shy I fell over my own feet. I was forced one evening to step out and do something for a friend who was in a bad position. I forgot about myself, and it was only after she had been saved from what might have happened to her that I realized how foolish I've been all these years. The people I've known all the time, and who frightened me, came up and crowded around me. They all said: 'I didn't know you had it in you.'"

"Since then I've realized it was fear that kept me back, and I'm never going to give into fear or to myself again—Dot."

Extra: You're fifteen and you want to know how you can "win" the boy who is devoted to your best friend. I can't help you. At fifteen, you should not be so hysterical about a man, and at any age you should not be asking help to double-cross your best friend. There are lots of other boys in the world, and if you are a real girl you will look for one of them.

L.M.: I hate to say I told you so, but I was quite sure when you asked me to get you in contact with a woman whose letter appeared in this column, that you would find her counterpart right around your corner. You joined your community club and there you found her! As I told you, when we are lonely, we must go out for bigger and better horizons. Thanks for your appreciation. I hope most sincerely that the new friendship will be as you so constructively wrote me you wish a prospective mate to be.

Reader: My favorite book of the time?—I must make a confession. I've been so busy answering your letters that I haven't had time to read the current ones. If I can catch up on your mail, I shall do a stretch of reading and make my report. I like biography and travel. But I shall try other books to prove I'm not biased.

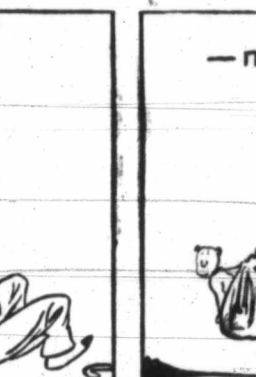

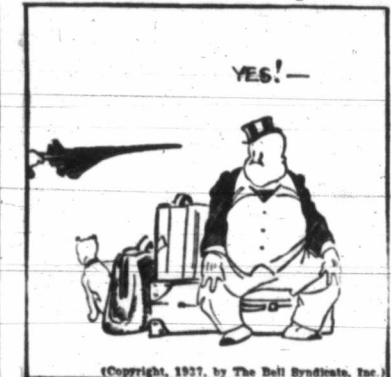

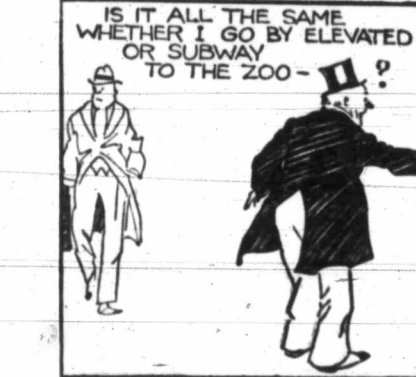

Father-in-Trouble: Don't be too severe with your daughter. Times have changed and hours, too. So long as she comes home in good order and tells you and her mother all about what's happened, and where, during the evening, you should show interest, not register blame. Encourage her confidence and advise her not to be too late. Midnight is fair enough for a dance that begins at ten.

CAMPAIGNERS' DINNER TO BE HELD TOMORROW

Interesting reminiscences of personal experiences will be given by several speakers. Harry Thompson will show a motion picture of the Vimy Ridge Memorial dedication by former King Edward VIII last July, also scenes in France and Great Britain which are familiar to all who served overseas.
